

ISOPE-2020 Conference, Shanghai, June 14-19
Geotechnical/Geoenvironmental Engineering Sessions

First Call For Papers

We would like to invite the colleagues, who are interested in any areas in geotechnical/ geoenvironmental engineering, to submit high quality original papers to the ISOPE-2020 geotechnical engineering sessions. The growing focus on oil/gas/wind exploration and production activities in harsh environments including arctic, deepwater and seismically active regions has raised the need for deep understanding of geotechnical challenges as well innovative solutions to these challenges.

Special ISOPE room rates starts from $110/night and up.

Topics in

Offshore Foundation, Piles, and Anchor	Soil-Structure; Soil–Pipe Interaction
Foundations for Offshore Wind Turbines	Computational Geomechanics, Simulations
Innovative Foundation Solutions	Physical/Centrifuge Modeling
Reliability of Offshore Foundation	Soil Properties and Mechanics
Petroleum Geomechanics; Scour Assessment	Testing and Instrumentation
